Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-19, drawn to a commissioning module, classified in class 137, subclass ---.
- II. Claims 20-35, drawn to a multi-zone heat exchange system, classified in class 165, subclass 11.1 or 218+.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the sub-combination claims (1-20) recite the claimed structure in greater detail than do the combination claims 21-35. For example, claim 21 does not contain any of the detailed limitations recited in claim 1 with regard to the location of the first isolating valve and the further isolating valve. Many other more detailed limitations are recited in claim 1 and the examiner will not belabor the point here. The subcombination has separate utility such as a fluid distribution system of generic utility for distributing fluid to any fluid using system from a central location.

Art Unit: 3753

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

First species of Figure 1 (as shown)

Second species described in paragraph 48 of the specification, but not shown and

Third species described in paragraph 67 of the specification, but not shown.

The species are independent or distinct because they contain mutually exclusive characteristics and a burden to search in the limited time allotted for searching by the PTO.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 21 may be generic, but the examiner is unsure because the modified species of paragraphs 48 and 67 have not been illustrated. In the event either the second or third species is elected, a proposed drawing correction illustrating that species is required in response to this office action.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to John K. Ford at telephone number 571-272-4911.
